MapNH Health
INSIGHTS FOR OUR FUTURE

MapNH Health starts a conversation that everyone can join, from policy makers to health care providers, business and industry leaders, and every resident of the state.

What will health in New Hampshire look like in 2020 and 2030?

MapNH Health enables us to examine New Hampshire's health and health care landscape now and through 2030.

Bringing together actionable and projections-based data,

MapNH Health is designed to inform public policy and community conversations about the future of New Hampshire's health.

If we understand how our population, health behaviors and outcomes, cost of care, and access to health care will change over time, we can start a conversation about how to meet New Hampshire's future health and health care needs.

Our goal is to engage stakeholders all around the state in community conversations that will examine what New Hampshire might look like, given current trends, and to inform public policy and planning efforts that will address New Hampshire's future health.
